

Juniper Lane, Take Me Home

Well I will spell it out
It seems the fault was mine
All the growing up
Took me too much time

Everything I'd seen
Left me like a child
Trying to forge ahead, slipping all the while

Take me home
I have nothing left to say
I'm at a loss
But you keep listening anyway

It seems our luck may change
I feel it comin' round
So push the doubt aside
And don't let you look down

Can you trust me now
I accept the blame
And I can pin it here
Right next to the shame

Take me home
I'm at a loss
But you keep listening anyway
Take these words
They mean even less today
I'm all worn out
Can you forgive me anyway

I'm tired of climbing out
From the hole we're in
Can we hold on here
Don't let's slip back in

I think the worst has passed
Though we cannot know
Still we both are here
And it's better than alone
