Jurassic 5, Thin Line (Remix)

{*girl giggling*}

(Chali 2na)

Yo, this is a lesson in friendship, the depths of a kinship What women and men begin with and then slip My pen drips as I scribble my thoughts on thin strips of emotion A fraction, seduction, attraction, eruption of passion Corrupts if a lasted friendship's involved Would love to cross the line but that's why we built these walls

(Hook: Jurassic 5)

We been friends for a long time, a very close friend of mine Love ya like ya was mine but respect the thin line I love ya like ya was mine, think about ya all the time Very close friend of mine but respect the thin line

(Akil)

Opposite's attract when the female and male come in contact Sticky situation, in fact tryin' not to let the feelings catch But there's a thin line between both of y'all so you respect that And entertain the idea but get brought back- to reality And could you really live with that- decision based on intuition? You love and keep it distant, hug and kiss in friendship

(Marc 7)

An ongoing kinship, we was people to begin with Disrespect was not intended but your feelings sparked the sentence Sometimes you're too intense in your quest to invent- the perfect man Please understand my rhyme is your repent

(Hook: Jurassic 5 and Mya together)

We been friends for a long time, a very close friend of mine Love ya like ya was mine but respect the thin line I love ya like ya was mine, think about ya all the time Very close friend of mine but respect the thin line We been friends for a long time, a very close friend of mine Love ya like ya was mine but respect the thin line I love ya like you was mine, think about ya all the time Very close friend of mine but respect the thin line

(Soup)

Man too bad that we became friends first And I'm not an expert on how relationships should work But {*echoes*} from the minute it was known It changed the whole tone, the way we spoke on the phone Yo it was cool but I felt it wasn't enough And I was stuck when your moms would pick it up Over you all my buddies would swoon But I felt we were in tune You let me up in your room (damn) But to me girl you're still off limits No matter all the times that I hinted (yo, what you doin' after this?) Infactuation was authentic But yo I just pretended so I wouldn't lose the friendship Maybe I should spill all my guts Or write a letter then tear it up Or do a song just to say what's up I want... just... a touch

(Hook: Jurassic 5 and Mya together)
We been friends for a long time, a very close friend of mine
Love ya like ya was mine but respect the thin line
I love ya like ya was mine, think about ya all the time

Very close friend of mine but respect the thin line We been friends for a long time, a very close friend of mine Love ya like ya was mine but respect the thin line I love ya like you was mine, think about ya all the time Very close friend of mine but respect the thin line

(Mya)

What happens if we cross the line?
Can't take it back, can't ever go back
Damn you're such a good friend to me now
But the attraction's undeniable
See I know ya as my brother but could see you as my lover
So what am I gonna do now?
Cuz physical relations want confrontation
Ooh what are we gonna do now?

(Chali 2na)

Yo, this was a lesson in friendship I stress in this sentence: Should women and men be friends first and then slip? My pen drips as I scribble my thoughts on thin strips of devotion

(Akil)

Opposites attract and best friends make a perfect match If you only knew that But once you cross, ain't no turning back The minute you let him in it and he hit that, that's that

(Marc 7)

We was people to begin with but you was too relentless Jeporidizing kinship, respect is intended, resolve is my intent While we got it in I'm tryin to salvage a friendship

(Hook: Jurassic 5 and Mya together)
We been friends for a long time, a very close friend of mine
Love ya like ya was mine but respect the thin line
I love ya like ya was mine, think about ya all the time
