

Just Surrender, If I Wanted To Cuddle I'd Buy A T

You're in for some trouble.
She's got a body and you've got the answers to all of her problems.
But bearing the taste that moves either one of you.
Soon the drinks have kicked in.
She's been around and I'm coming around.
I know she means well, but I was proven wrong once or twice
when your playing these games.

I swear I'm down for whatever you're down for tonight.
I'm a man's girl drippin' with the sweat just to torment you.
Help put me through.

There's something strange about the way you move your body.
What do I know? What do I know?
I'm always finding a way just to touch your body.
What do I know? What do I know?

You're in for some trouble.
The drinks have faded along with her good words.
Now's the time for thinking.
What have I done?
Where have my standards gone?
It all seems so strange now.
Her heated head and arms across my chest.
I know there's been worse.
But I'm grabbing my clothes as I jet just to catch a ride.

I'm sure she's down for what anyone's down for tonight.
I'm a mess now drippin' with regret from the worst damn night I've spent with you.

There's something strange about the way you move your body.
What do I know? What do I know?
I'm always finding a way just to touch your body.
What do I know? What do I know?
There's something strange about the way you move your body.
(The way! The way!)
What do I know? What do I know?
(You know! You know!)
I'm always finding a way just to touch your body.
(The way! The way!)
What do I know? What do I know?
(You know! You know!)