

Justin King, Beauty Bar

Tonight I'll wrap myself in skyscrapers
Leave a trail of ashes where I walk
Going down to see the girls at the beauty bar
Where it's all just candy and cigarettes from here
My insides and outsides are falling apart
You say things to me that bend me at the knees
Well it's not hard to fall far
Too deep for your charms
All the lights don't shine so bright tonight
But you and I light up the sky
Hey yeah hey yeah
Feels like walking in a sleepless dream
Oh my feet touch just above the ground
Rolling out right in front of me
The concrete sea, the neon lights, the possibilities
Yeah it's not hard to fall far
Turn deep from your charms
All the lights don't shine so bright tonight
You and I light up the sky
Hey yeah hey yeah
