

Justincase, Mary

recently i've been enjoying life so much, usually i'm always tired of it but something in my life have changed something i'm about to explain its you, its you the crystal glowing in my eyes, my almost "all the time" smile the pressure of adrenaline is rising the doctor said i should calm down but that is not happening now cause i want to be with you mary? where are you going now? i wanna spend some time (second time it's "my life") with you i'll do anything you want i'll kiss you and i'll close my eyes i'll treat you like the porcelain doll you are c'mon, please give me one more kiss or like you always do bite my ears it's so great that we don't fight and we have nothing to hide you're my girlfriend and the only thing that keeps me alive we agree in so many things and we're always laughing with you i have so much fun you are my moon and my sun and the stars above it's the first time that i can truly say i really love someone luckily for me it's you without you i wouldnt know, what to do!!!
chorus
mary...where are you going now i want to be part of you this emotions that i have there's no way i can deny that i truly love you....
