

K-essence, DANGEROUS MAN

So you got here. Enjoy the rest of the story!

A murder of crows surround him
He smells like human flesh
He never rides the horse
He beat him to death long ago
You better look away when you cross his path
He ain't down here to make friends

He's a dangerous man
Don't like to be bothered
He's a dangerous Man
Don't like to be looked at
He's a dangerous man
Don't like to be bothered, no no no

There was once a barkeep
That spilled whiskey on the floor
The man, he didn't say anything
And the barkeep
Says nothing no more
Just before he realized
That he had gone too far

He's a dangerous man
Don't like to be bothered
He's a dangerous Man
Don't like to be looked at
He's a dangerous man
Don't like to be bothered, no no no
There was once a girl
That fell for his hat
Her daddy was an evil man
He did not approve of that
The man made a lampshade of his head
And some candles of his fat
Just before he realized
That he had gone too far

Chorus

The girl is in distress
She had no place to go
The man real good care of her
She's the most expensive whore
Just before that bitch realized
That she had gone too far
