

K'naan, Believe In Lies

...And I stand all alone in a world of darkness
All sanctity is washed away
By crimson storm of false promises
Of human decay

We have betrayed our god
Now we worship the iron sword
We have forsaken the truth
Misled by a single word

Told by unseized hunger
For blood, flesh, control
They have burnt our eyes
They have burnt our soul

Merciless, beaten by fear
Cruel lies... No saviours in here!

I have walked to the battle under hot steaming sun,
I have lost my life, I have buried my sons,
I've believed in their words, I believed in their lies
I've walked through the bloodshed, now my cold blood cries!

Turn my blood into wine
And they will pour it into a glass
They'll take a sip
Yet will never know how painful it tasted

Turn my eyes blind
I will wander through time
We were given holy earth
Now it is defiled!

The Terror unleashed
The horror is pure
Pain deep underneath
Hidden, obscure

The Terror unleashed
The horror is pure
Pain deep underneath
Hidden, obscure

We are nothing but ashes
And cold graves of stone
As we keep on wandering
In darkness, All Alone

We are nothing but ashes
And cold graves of stone
As we keep on wandering
In darkness, All Alone...!
