

Kai Tracid, Destiny's Path

Our life is a neverending circle of power and succes
The thought of beeing part of it makes your existence lonely and depressive Youd freak out if you didnt had the oppurtunity to escape the real world once in a while
To let yourself go with the flow of the music and express yourself to the rythm of the dancefloor
Prowling in a temporary extacy and overcoming the feeling of loneliness
Letting the music penetrate your subconciouness, til its taken full control over you
This is when you realize that you were born and that youll gonna die without having any influence i
But you can break through the boundaries cause its your life and your future
Its destiny's path!
