The dark Side (X3)

Another cold lonely and rainy day
Comes to an end.
I have to climb online before
I sleep what else I tend.
To close my eyes and realise
There's nothing there but light.
I need shadow I need darkness
To help me through the night.

The dark side (X7)

Another cold and lonely sunday morning
Hurts my eyes.
Cold water hits my face
Only I get to see the skies.
I raise my head, look up,
And I'm surprised the clouds have gone.
I'm still in search for darkness
So I'll have to wait till dawn.
