

Kainos, Will You Save Me

It's safe to come out of hiding
Now that the heat is gone
But where, where do I have to go
Do you know

At one time I was flying
I wonder what went wrong
Cause I've fallen so low
Do you know

Can you hear me now
That I'm on the ground
Will you reach down
Through the angry clouds
Will you save me
Will you save me

Why do I resort to anger
Why do I hang on to what's holding me down
Do you know

Can you hear me now
That I'm on the ground
Will you reach down
Through the angry clouds
Will you save me
Will you save me

Now I had searched high and low
On the mountains and valleys below
And when I had given up
And when my eyes were almost shut

That's when I saw you reach down
Through the angry clouds
Lifted me off the ground
And you saved me
And you saved me
And you saved me
And you saved me
