

Kamelot, Light I Shine On You

yet a day is dawning I am sad but also strong this gift that I've been given tells me where I do belong falling I'm falling down and you recall my strength time will slowly pull me under but you will catch my breath this is a praise to all of you cause the light I shine on you is what you gave to me
I'm a crystal clear and true I'm your cairn and creed you think that I'm a mountain but there's a price I have to pay for the love I have forsaken can never be replaced crying I'm crying out be careful with my soul unbounded I'm like water but so fragile in the cold and this is a praise to all of you cause the light I shine on you
is what you gave to me
I'm a crystal clear and true
I'm your cairn and creed
the mysteries of life take us high and low
the road can be long it seems someone is lost but no one is free
into your open arms each and every gathered glow maintains my shining star
this is a praise to all of you...
