

Kamelot, Rule The World

When a new day reaches dawn
I feel it's worth the wait
But I tumble and I fall
When up against my fate

When the barricades come down
I build it up again
When I'm just about to drown
I still don't know the end

Sometimes I tremble like a little child
That faces mourning with a broken smile
Sometimes I crumble when the shades unfurl
Sometimes I feel that I could rule the world

When the morning comes alive
Release your love brigade
At the end of day is night
To suck it up with hate

Sometimes I tremble like a little child
That faces mourning with a broken smile
Sometimes I crumble when the shades unfurl
Sometimes I feel that I could rule the world

Rule the world

Sometimes I tremble like a little child
That faces mourning with a broken smile
Sometimes I crumble when the shades unfurl
Sometimes I feel that I could rule the world

(That faces mourning with a broken smile
Sometimes I crumble when the shades unfurl
Sometimes I feel that I could rule the world)
