

Karen Clark-Sheard, A Secret Place

This world sometimes seems cruel and cold And pain doth pierce my very soul, But there's a place ,a secret place, a place where i can go.

A place of peace,
where love abides, where justice reigns and God resides,
there is a place,
a secret place,
a place where i can go,

For you shall hide me in your tabernacle from the rain and storm and even when my enemies persue me, you'll keep me safe from harm,

And when my heart is filled with pain, no peace it seems ill find again i find that place
a secret place

Choir:
For you shall hide me in your tabernacle

there is safety, in your tabernacle there is protection, in your tabernacle there is security, in your tabernacle there is sanctuary, in your tabernacle Lord take me, to your tabernacle i wanna go, to your tabernacle
Lord take me, to your tabernacle Lord there you'll reign hide me-safely-in your-dwelling-place

ooooh a secret place a dwelling place
i wanna go
i wanna go.
