

Karmina, The Kiss

I know we dont belong
Everyone says its wrong
We come from different ways
So I tried to erase everything that I felt
That I felt
But then you kissed me and suddenly I dont care any more
Something in me tells me youre the one Im looking for
But then you kissed me and suddenly I dont care any more
Something in me tells me youre the one Im looking for
From the KISS
From the KISS
My heart is getting loud
Im trying to keep it down
I wish the world could hear
But I cant help but fear that theyll take you away
You away
But then you kissed me and suddenly I dont care any more
Something in me tells me youre the one Im looking for
But then you kissed me and suddenly I dont care any more
Something in me tells me youre the one Im looking for
From the KISS
From the KISS
Palm to palm
Let lips do what hands do
They pray
Is it a sin
To do what we want to?
Dont care where weve been
Give me my sin again
But then you kissed me and suddenly I dont care any more
Something in me tells me youre the one Im looking for
But then you kissed me and suddenly I dont care any more
Something in me tells me youre the one Im looking for
