

Kaskade, Room for Happiness (feat. Skylar Grey)

Sometimes I wish I never felt,
The influence of you
Cuz now I feel the disconnect,
Like an open wound

Where you once were, there is a space,
That runs as deep as hell
But every morning when I wake
I tell myself

Don't be fooled by your emptiness,
There's so much more room for happiness
Don't be fooled by your emptiness,
There's so much more room for happiness

yeah, yeah, yeah

Sometimes it's worse to have lost,
Than to have never had at all
Cuz it's a curse to feel love
And to feel it all dissolve

Where you once were, there is a space
That runs as deep as hell
But every morning when I wake
I tell myself

Don't be fooled by your emptiness,
There's so much more room for happiness
Don't be fooled by your emptiness,
There's so much more room for happiness

yeah, yeah, yeah

Don't be fooled by your emptiness,
There's so much more room for happiness
Don't be fooled by your emptiness,
There's so much more room for happiness

yeah, yeah, yeah /x5
