

Katatonian, Birds

I can't wait out
The longest journey
Must lose the grip
At the fingertip
I won't return
From the circumscription
Walking past the compass now
To forget my dream

Shut down my mind
Is the heart brave enough yet
Uncover the skies
And show me the birds
The birds
They rise
Premonitions of the other side

Time well spent
In the chapel of Eschaton
Smog of days through nights the same
Oh the spell is kicking in
I commend the dereliction
Last look at the cityscape
Before the change

Shut down my mind
Is the heart brave enough yet
Uncover the skies
And show me the birds
The birds
They rise
Premonitions of the other side

(Follow the birds)
179375
(Follow the birds)
592218

(Follow the birds)
179375
(Follow the birds)
592218

Shut down my mind
Is the heart brave enough yet
Uncover the skies
And show me the birds
The birds
They rise
Premonitions of the other side
