

Katatonian, Ghost Of The Sun

The thin darkness here
Not strong enough to make you appear
(Strong enough to make you appear)
I once changed my style
They said hello I said goodbye
(They said hello I said goodbye)
I once played a role
I was out there marketing my soul

City of glass that I live in
Coldness from my brothers skin

I trusted you, you lied
It's all I hear a fucking lie
Don't give a shit it's over now
It's all I know you broke the vow

I trusted you, you lied
It's all I hear a fucking lie
Don't give a shit it's over now
It's all I know you broke the vow

The thin darkness here
Not strong enough to make you appear
(Strong enough to make you appear)
I once changed my style
They said hello I said goodbye
(They said hello I said goodbye)

Truth is I have seen it come
Seen the ghost of the sun
Can't have it undone

Truth is I have seen it come
Seen the ghost of the sun
Can't have it undone

In time we all call out for relief
See two lovers meet
Pass you on the street

I trusted you, you lied
It's all I hear a fucking lie
Don't give a shit it's over now
It's all I know you broke the vow

I trusted you, you lied
It's all I hear a fucking lie
Don't give a shit it's over now
It's all I know you broke the vow

The City of glass that I live in
Coldness from my brothers skin

The City of glass that I live in
Coldness from my brothers skin
