Katatonia, Rainroom

We saw it all pass by And you went by And I can't control anything When you said that life can't be what you want And I really want everything When I práy When I believe I saw it end long before it ended Life itself turned pale and ended I saw you cry out acres of your image Life itself does not heal me Like a slow scenery I'm losing all my faith In lifeless motion you're walking like you're dead We saw it all pass by And you went by And I can't control anything When you said that life can't be what you want And I really want everything
