

Kate Alexa, Glass Slipper

Listen, I'm getting tired of hearing the same thing over again, Missing the point i've been saying, and playing a blame game i can't win, cause this one way me a reason why, do you even see me do you even care, and the lie i'm living is in my, I wanna move on but I'm still right there

CHORUS:

and I give and I give but I get nothing back but the words, that I've heard all before your're skipping if I fit your glass slipper well I could be your perfect cinderella, so I try and I try until something insid Lately, I'm running on empty only pretending I like what you want, stop me, I'll say something crazy and It's not like me to be apuppet on the end of a string, no It's not lik me to do what I'm told every time you speak,

CHORUS:

and I give and I give but I get nothing back but the words, that I've heard all before your're skipping
if I fit your glass slipper well I could be your perfect cinderella, so I try and I try until something insid I give and you take, and It's not like me to be the pretty little video dream, and It's not like me to be someone I don't wanna be,

CHORUS:

and I give and I give but I get nothing back but the words, that I've heard all before your're skipping
if I fit your glass slipper well I could be your perfect cinderella, so I try and I try until something insid
