

Kate Ceberano, Don't Come Around

So youre feeling hungry and haunted
Brother, you gotta stop letting this get you down
Dont forget to be king even when your queen aint around
So what started out good has turned sour
Well the world wont stand still if you change your mind
You dont have to be pretend any more to protect someone else
Oh, dont come around

Dont come around with your sad ideas and those big old eyes
You better find your sense of humour or youre going to lose her
Ohh no dont come around

You get caught up in insignificances
And the littlest thing can become a scene
Receiving abuse on street corners never used to be your thing
Well you err on the side of protection
Always feeling the pain for somebody else
But when theres no respect for the love that you give thats a crime
Ohh no Dont come around

Well, when you feeling hungry and haunted
Brother you gotta stop letting this get you down
Dont forget to be king even when your queen aint around
Remember how it used to be
Its harder these days to persuade you
Dont forget youve got to live without compromising
Dont you come around
