

Kate Ryan, That Kiss I Miss

That kiss I miss and the tenderness
That beautiful face I can't erase
That voice so soft the stories I loved
Will it hurt until my end
When will I see you again

Where is the silver lining
My heart could never rest
Where is the rainbow where is heaven
Is there a place you have gone
I need to know where you are
Because I'm here all alone

That kiss I miss that bygone bliss
It didn't last forever
That kiss I miss on these salty cheeks
I miss you more than ever
Is there a place you've gone that's right here

Can you hear me now am I talking to myself
Are you here with me or somewhere else

Where is the rainbow where is heaven
Is there a place you have gone
I need to know where you are
Because I'm here all alone

That kiss I miss that bygone bliss
It didn't last forever
That kiss I miss on these salty cheeks
I miss you more than ever
Is there a place you've gone that's right here
