Katja Werker, Love Like U Do

I am embarrassed and shy when I look into your eyes and tonight it seems I never will reach you but that doesn't matter to know you are there is enough

I long for a touch of your tender fingers but I won't tell you one word about that for I know that you're with me for I know that we will not give up

I wanna love like u do love like u do love like u do I wanna love, love, love love like u do

I was lost now I'm found and in the twilight I saw that our perception is patchwork for me it's no shame to tell you that you're not alone
