

Katrine Lukins, You Are The Reason

I was standing all alone
Tried to find the way to you
And as the day begins to fade
There is nowhere else I'd be

No more sleepless nights,
No more tears and fights
Wasn't meant to be that way
To a better start, to a new beginning

I never wanted anything more
As I walk up to your door
You are the reason I feel alive
When I'm standing in the dark
And I know we're far apart
You are the reason I feel alive

I will never let it go
Never be afraid to fall
So don't you ever lose yourself
You're the one that fights for it all

No more silent tears
No more hidden fears
Nothing is the same again
For the memories, for a new beginning

I never wanted anything more
As I walk up to your door
You are the reason I feel alive
When I'm standing in the dark
And I know we're far apart
You are the reason I feel alive

This is it

I never wanted anything more
As I walk up to your door
You are the reason I feel alive
When I'm standing in the dark
And I know we're far apart
You are the reason I feel alive
