Katy Gunn, Consequences

Wasnt me
Wasnt myself
Guess there aint really anyone else I can blame for my behavior
And this time Im gonna pay
I wouldnt do those things baby
If I were you she said maybe you she said maybe should think twice
But so much for advice when love is on the line
Its so fucked up
How I always come right back
You dont even love me
Care if the Pain you cause kills me
Im a big girl
I can take it
Yeah I dont mince words
Ill never fake it
Fully aware of the consequences
Of this Im not afraid
But I am a woman down to my core
Pretend there is a newborn where the heart is concerned
I may seem ok but inside this shell I die a bit more each day
Its so fucked up
How I always come right back
You dont even love me
Care if the pain you cause kills me
Its so fucked up
How I always come right back
You dont even love me
Care if the pain you cause kills me
And I know Im sinking to the bottom of a lake
Cause thats where the bad girls go to revel in the fondest mistakes
But I know that Im not your one
You were just having your fun at my expense
Even with lies while I defend your alibis
Wasnt me
Wasnt myself
Guess there aint really anyone else I can blame for my bad behavior
And this time Im gonna pay
