

Katy Perry, Self Inflicted

Remember when I dove into the crowd
And I got a bloody knee under my skin
a mark from wiping out
It brings back the memories
Every bone's been broken
And my heart is still wide open
I cant stop
Dont care if I lose
Baby you are the weapon I choose
These wounds are self inflicted
Im going down in flames for you
Baby you are the weapon I choose
These wounds are self inflicted
One more thing Im addicted too
With each scar theres a map that tells a story what a souvenir of Young love's like jumping out An airplane riding a tidal wave on an ocean of emotion
My heart rips me wide open
I cant stop
Dont care if I lose
Baby you are the weapon I choose
These wounds are self inflicted
Im going down in flames for you
Baby you are the weapon I choose
These wounds are self inflicted
One more thing Im addicted too
And I cover up these scars (Well make it well make it but we break it)
And I cant stop seeing stars
(lets hope not die)
Whenever youre around Around
I cant stop
Dont care if I lose
Baby you are the weapon I choose
These wounds are self inflicted
oohhh you are the weapon I choose
These wounds are self inflicted
One more thing Im addicted to I cant stop no I cant stop no I can't stop Ohh Im going out in flames
Ohh Im going down in flames
Ohhhh
Baby you are the weapon I choose
Baby you are the weapon I choose
