

Kavana, Protected

digging deep inside my mind looking for a clearer view think i've found the answer now and every one lad back to you and i believe with time and chance that everything was meant to be seems that like is on my side i know that someone's watching me a brand new thought occurred to me today it's funny how the truth can light your way and every woman, every man, it's time for you to understand can't you see that there's a bigger plan chorus:

i'm protected by your love for me you've given me the strength to be protected when i'm out there n my own i'm protected every night and day protected since you came my way when you're protected you can't be alone and i have wandered every land, smiled and shook a stranger's hand you told me i should never be frightened by the trught you see satisfied i freed my soul. i've seen my mission turn to gold when troubles they out-number you your heart will know just what to do

repeat chorus

(instrum mid 8)

protected every night and day protected since you came my way
