

Keep Of Kalessin, As Mist Lay Silent Beneath

A lifegiving sun lies low beyond A mighty citadel

A general greets his army of light's devoted men
"Warriors hold tight the darkness is upon us tonight"

No courage rose up among the hearts of warriors to fight against the fear....the death Only darkness stands against the dark
As mist lay silent beneath

Will these great walls of stone grant us from fall Or will the walls we stand upon bury us all All the mist alive in this fleeing form flickering, dodging, fading at every side

No courage rose up among the hearts of warriors to stand against the fear....the death
Only darkness stands against the dark
As mist lay silent beneath

Now the mist thinned and moved slowly away as a great dragon drops low over the ground and with a roaring shrill of fright he call upon the men of might...

...to bring more death into this night