

Kelly Llorenna, Heart Of Gold

You have a heart of gold

You have a heart of gold
A precious jewel to which I was sold
But I just can't justify your love
It hurts to see you walk away
And I'd like to ask you back to stay
To hold you in my arms just one more time
Just one more time

You have a heart of gold
A precious jewel to which I was sold
But I just can't justify your love
It hurts to see you walk away
And I'd like to ask you back to stay
To hold you in my arms just one more time

For a thousand years, here I could stand
Your precious stone held in my hand
But I just can't justify your love, your love
Justify your love

Oh, yeah, yeah, baby, just one more time

You have a heart of gold
A precious jewel to which I was sold
But I just can't justify your love
It hurts to see you walk away
And I'd like to ask you back to stay
To hold you in my arms just one more time

For a thousand years, here I could stand
Your precious stone held in my hand
But I just can't justify your love, your love
Justify your love

I just can't justify your love
You have a heart of gold