

Kenny Price, She Cried

The first time I kissed her she cried and said I bet I'll still love you after I die
When we were married she cried then too
And I could hardly hear through all her tears when she said I do
When she first held our baby she cried
And insisted he be named after me for he had my eyes
[ steel ]
But to some people's life autumn comes early and God will let a favorite flower die
And I miss her so but Lord she's happy I know
For just before she left she said I'll miss you then she cried
