

Kenny Price, Tell Her You Love Her

Tell her you love her today tell her in your own simple way
It's the same old story to her it's never old
And even though she knows it she likes to be told
Maybe she's lonely and blue her world depending on you
So tell her you love her today and smiles will drive the teardrops away
Oh maybe she's lonely and blue and her world it's depending on you
Oh tell her you love her today and smiles will drive the teardrops away
Oh tell her you love her today