

Kent, Heavenly Junkies

I saw a film
future visions of now They changed the end
cause they always do somehow Saw you tonight
for the first time in years Crushed and thin
but your guardian angel's with you judging by the way you walk

And I get a feeling
it wasn't that easy Keeping a place like that forever you fool me
you're a heavenly junkie
We live in the dreams you had I get a feeling
It wasn't that easy
to be who you were

I saw a film
about the violence in men
I press rewind
Take it frame by frame again
Saw you tonight
life still danced in your eyes You're creased and lined
but your guardian angel's with you
judging by the way you talk