

Kerli, Dragonfly

I'm floating softly on my dragonfly
It knows that it has just one day to live
Could we chase away we cast our time
If we could see tomorrow won't be here

I'm breathing cause I know that
You'll always be there
You'll always be there
And when you feel like falling
Soon I'll be there
I'll always be there

Imagine all the colors in the sky
My stomachs full of tiny butterflies
I'm feeling so alive it makes me scared
I wish I could have known and been prepared

I'm breathing cause I know that
You'll always be there
You'll always be there
And when you feel like falling
Soon I'll be there
I'll always be there

It feels like its warmer when your smiling
It feels like I've known you for a thousand lives
I'm flying above the world so hollow
Wherever this life will take us follow

I'm breathing cause I know that
You'll always be there
You'll always be there
And when you feel like falling
Soon I'll be there
I'll always be there

I'm floating softly on my dragonfly
It knows that it has just one day to live
Oh would we change the way we cast our time
If we could see tomorrow won't be here oh
