

Kevin Gilbert, Shadow Self

I'm a sick man. A very sick man.
I don't expect you to understand
There I am - Just look at me
I walk among you in talked of men
And I am power's most vital friend
There I am - You're looking at me
But there is no one I have not known And no one's vengeance I do not own
There I am - Just look at me
I am there in the back of your mind
I am uncaring, I am unkind
There I am - You're looking at me

Creep up behind you when you fill with hate
I get excited when you're irate
I make you crazy, make your conscience numb I've got the anger gonna get you some

Now we think what we're taught Shadow self - what we thought There is no right or wrong Shadow self - sing your song

You will become me - There's a fire in my head can't put out There's a name on my lips can't pronounce There's a stain on my heart can't get out
And you know the way...

I beat your children, I drop your bomb
From school yard brawls to the pentagon
There I am - Just look at me
Give me a conflict, give me a war Just give me something worth fighting for
There I am - You're looking at me

Don't try to keep me bottled up inside I'm there inside you now you cannot hide I've always been and I will always be I like the goose-step won't you dance with me?

masque of goodness and of grace the blood of angels made to face the horror of the naked truth is only what you make it do the things you want to do complete the animal that has to eat the innocent are left to bear the blame we'll never have to wear the masque of honor Liebenschorn of darkness brothers we are sworn you make us strong when we are weak you are the only truth we seek you only to forget the hollow men we have become your followers so lead us now to paradise we'll never have to wear the masque of goodness and of grace the blood of angels made to face the horror of the naked truth is only what you make it do the things you want to do complete the animal that has to eat the innocent are left to bear the blame we'll never have to wear the masque of honor Liebenschorn of darkness brothers we are sworn you make us strong when we are weak you are the only truth we seek you only to forget now to paradise we'll never have to wear them
