

Kevin McDermott, Wise To The Fade

Hanging on to what we got
Life keeps leaking like a lobster pot
Tell me something new
Tell me something new

The sun gets in my eyes, I step into the shade
It doesn't mean that I surrender to the grade

I'm wise to the fade
I'm wise to the fade

Watching as ???
Like the pyramids along the Nile
I've nothing more to nothing more to do

No reason to unlock every second of the day
The patience of a rock as the river rolls away

I'm wise to the fade
I'm wise to the fade

Wise to the fade
Wise to the fade
I'm standing still, but speed could kill
And tomorrow is another day

Wise to the fade
Wise to the fade
I'm standing still, but speed could kill
And tomorrow is another day

Hanging on to what we got
Life keeps leaking like a lobster pot
Tell me something new
Tell me something new
Tell me something new
Tell me something new

I'm wise to the fade
I'm wise to the fade
I'm wise to the fade
I'm wise to the fade
