

Kevin Tellie, Barefoot Grass-Runners

In my head I find what I see
Take my outside the sky awaits me
I am suddenly undiscovered under the moon's covers
It slips my mind everything's fine
You slip my mind everything's fine

Everything is good, good, good
All is fine
We're hidden away from the sunshine
It's all right, right, right
Tonight's so sweet
We're barefoot grass-runners with soaking feet

Rain bounces all over me
I stand and I stay
Under the crying sky
In the middle of the day
Starlight is shining
The grass awaits me
Soaked to the bone
The ground collects me
Tonight, I swear I feel new

Everything is good, good, good
All is fine
We're hidden away from the sunshine
Tonight's so sweet
We're barefoot grass-runners with soaking feet

Its dead midnight
In the middle of the day
Spin around and around
For this time we'll lay

Everything is good, good, good
All is fine
We're hidden away from the sunshine
Tonight's so sweet
We're barefoot grass-runners with soaking feet
