

Khoiba, Me And My Victory

I won't go away until you say so

I don't till it will be late

I'm wasting your time

We woke up and i certainly got to know

It's something between me and my victory

Me and my victory

Me and my victory

Me and my victory

Scarred and fixed just like a mother

You know that i was and still you frown

I can't explain it to another

It's something between

It's something between

It's something between

Me and my victory
