

Khoiba, Ohio

Even i know there is something between us
I'm trying to turn my head around
To be head to head with you in white shade
But i'm stuck
Even i know there is something between us
My edict says not yet allowed
Once and for all to step out
I'm laying through my tears
I want to get them all
I'm staring at the wall
In tops of higher trees
I don't need to hide my call
I'm facing that blue wall
I'm facing your blue ...
Even i know there is something between us
Every start has a different overall
But nevertheless continues the same way
But i'm stuck
Even i know there is something between us
The winner will take his half of all
Behind that fascinating wall
I feed you with my tears
You keep them soft and warm
I'm staring at the wall
In tops of higher trees
I don't need to hide my call
I'm facing that blue wall
I'm facing your blue ...
