

Kid Cudi, Sky Might Fall

Oohh...

OhhOooohh...

What a world that I'm livin' in,
When do rainstorms ever end,
Stealin' from my path nero,
I run again,
See nappyness is gone again,
And then you see 'em,
Grey clouds up above mane,
Metaphor to my life mane,
Stealin' from my heart stronger then its ever been,
Strong will to my jelly-in's,
'Til then I roll,

More then I've ever rolled not pills but the mari-ol',
Stealin' from my eyes everywhere the days go,
Nothing helping with my head dose,
But I aint sleepin',
Awake in another state,
Livin' in a new space,
Stealin' from my mind runnin' at a steady pace,
God help me so I'll win the race

'Til then I call

The sky might fall

The sky might fall

But I'm not worried at all

C'mon C'mon

The sky might fall

The sky might fall

But I'm not worried at all

Hey Hey

I let them know some, let them know some, let them know some

You can listen up, listen up, listen up, listen uuup

Hey I let them know some, let them know some, let them know some

You can listen up, listen up, listen up, listen uuup

Grey clouds took together fam,

Lining piercing to another land

Or wit' the desert wit' the lost play,

So searching each in every way,

An then you see tha,

Awesome sounds so profound within,

It'll grip you did you see it,

If you hear you can feel it too,

Somethin' special I am runnin' to,

'Til then I go,

Away very far away,

To another universe where other people say,

Is the new new place for the special to embrace,

Like a martian you seein' it,

Wandered out the place,

Take what you need from the belly of tha hope,

Even if you dry you'll be floatin' high above it,

You can say Bye Bye Bye,

Sky might be fallin' but remember you can fligh high.

The sky might fall

The sky might fall

But I'm not worried at all

C'mon C'mon

The sky might fall

The sky might fall

But I'm not worried at all

Hey Hey

I let them know some, let them know some, let them know some

You can listen up, listen up, listen up, listen uuup

You can listen up, listen up, listen up, listen uuup
