

Kid Theodore, I Am A Moth

Hey, it's happened again now
Hey, I can not leave now
Hey, Forget how to breathe again
Hey, I can not just leave you again

I love your eyes and your smile
Won't you please invite me to stay for a while
'Cause the ride home is long
And the birds'll sing a song
If we spend this moment together
Watch the sun rise up together again

Hey, where are you now girl
Hey, I need you right now girl
I'll sleep all morning just to dream of you
Instead of doing things that I need to do
It sounds kinda funny but you know it's true

'Cause the ride home is long
And the birds'll sing a song
If we spend this moment together
Watch the sun rise up together again

And no one's ever told me what it's like to be in love for real
And no one's ever taught me what I need to know to say this is real
I can feel
In my head, in my brains, in my bones, in my soul
I know that I'd die if you were to go
Forget how to breathe and my organs would fail
'Cause you are the thing that makes me feel well

I already miss you and I haven't even said goodbye, oh my
I know I need to leave, believe me, I try, oh I try
I love your touch and your smile
Won't you please stay with me for a while
'Cause the ride home is long
And the birds'll sing a song
If we spend this moment together
Watch the sun rise up together again
