

Kidneythieves, Dark Horse

I was born the daughter of a bad, bad man.... at 17, turned the corner and i never looked back.

now i believe in the wind's innocence ive got that shit left behind and a long road ahead

don't let it dim your light
you're a dark horse like a thief in the night
don't let it dim your light
you've gotta give it all just to keep up the fight
you're a dark horse like a thief in the night don't let it take your Grace you're gonna get what you Make.

crossed the border with a song and a dream in my hand. california took it all - and showed me with the rise and the fall it's much sweeter within.

i've got Tidal Waves of a good fight coming

you're a dark horse like a thief in the night
don't let it dim your light
you've gotta give it all just to keep up the fight
you're a dark horse like a thief in the night
don't let it take your Grace
you're gonna get what you Make.

-quicksilver in the dark (don't let it dim your light)
-it's unstoppable (don't let it dim your light)
-and when the magic comes, they'll say "I knew it all along."

you're a dark horse like a thief in the night
don't let it dim your light
you've gotta give it all just to keep up the fight
you're a dark horse like a thief in the night
don't let it take your Grace you've gotta give it all
you've gotta give it All.
