

Kids In The Way, Hallelujah

I'm sick and tired of watching over you.
Never knowing what you're gonna do.
Every step you take is closer and closer to falling far away.
What's It gonna take, what's It take to make you see.
If it all came down tonight.
Safe from the losing fight.
Just know I only want to hear you say.
Hallelujah, hallelujah.
He's alive in me today.
Everyday you search for something new.
You turn your back on things that make you choose.
And everytime you do, you're closer and closer to falling far away.
What's It gonna take, what's It take to make you see...