

Kids In The Way, This Could Be The Song That V

There's a burning in my heart everyday
I come to you, I look to you and say
When will I become everything that you've intended me to be

I'm beating at my chest everyday
I run to you, I come to you and say
When will I become everything that you've intended me to be

I am so tired, I am so beaten
From walking down this road of shattered dreams
I am so lonely, I am so broken
Won't you come, won't you rescue me

I am so tired, I am so tired, I am so tired, I am so tired

(I'll be the light inside of you and won't let go of you)
Come rescue me, won't you come, won't you come
I'm calling out your name