

Kieran Goss, Weight Of The World

Don't delay, greet the day
Leave the night so far behind
Trust in me, you will see
How the darkness made you blind
And the weight of the world
Won't rest upon you now
And the weight of the world
Won't rest upon you now

Close the door like before
Now it's only you and me
Open wide, deep inside
See how love can set you free
And the weight of the world
Won't rest upon you now
And the weight of the world
Won't rest upon you now

Do you know
Know where you'll be
Do you know
Know where you'll be
This time tomorrow

And the weight of the world
Won't rest upon you now
And the weight of the world
Won't rest upon you now

There you go, high and low
Looking for what used to be
Take your time, draw the line
All the rest is history
And the weight of the world
Won't rest upon you now
And the weight of the world
Won't rest upon you now
