{people screaming}

[Killah Priest]

All science addicts, religious fanatics, curiosity seekers

Biblical preachers, historians, ritual believers

Scholars, teachers, spiritual leaders

High priests, generals, sergeants in the room with captains

Lieutenants and all of you gimmicks

I'm the Hip Hopper that'll rock to fill an opera

Acapella and lock the cellar, watch Hell a freeze over

Take you lower, break your boa constrictor

Hit you like liquor, tipsy and sober

Whiskey in your soda or vodka

Chop you with the blade made of copper

Kick your head off like a soccer ball

Raw alcohol and it's over, a Red October, it's getting colder

[Break: Killah Priest]

It's over

Punch a hole through your solarplex' and it's over

I mark X on your chest, it's over

And bury the dead, ain't gonna be no rest

[Killah Priest]

Just pretend, watch me blow like the dust in a gust of wind

Flow with the rush when I adjust the pen

Take you miles and miles and miles

Leave you at the River of the Nile

Now deliver the foul fact found in the pile in the stack

Books that were took, take a look back

As I take you further high into the sky

Wear your eyes like vision surprised

And dived back risen, building the bombs upon you peons

Knowledge of crazy mileage we be going Off!

Now you lost, tossed in confusion

Saw the illusion of the car that started cruising

Asking today's Mathematics, brought rays to his attic

What's the weight of a flame, state your name
But he was afraid of the height, glazed at the light
Strayed, couldn't stay for the flight
Ran to his book of rhymes, took up some time
For the brother to hook up a line
As if he had a fishing rod, but my mission is God
Science I be dishing out be hard
Deep in his eye's contacts, plus saw beyond that Sort of brother who couldn't respond back
Tried to rhyme after me and hold the weight
But the science I drop, getting ready your shoulder aches now
Let's take a trip travel through the mind
And played a trick when he unravelled the rhyme
Bloodthirsty, no mercy when I find the victim emotions
Stick him with potions that I've developed
To make the body swell up like venom
Once I'm in them then I skin them and scold them
After that I call them back from the essence
Who could fuck want more lessons? It's over!

[Break: Killah Priest]
Know what I'm saying? It's over
The dead bury the dead, it's over
Your career, it's over
All you wack MCs (finish them off), it's over
Finish them off

[Killah Priest]
The blast burst back into elements
Development of gas surround the mass of the Earth
A hundred and ninety six million, nine hundred and forty thousand miles
Are occupied by people, cars and houses
And over this the mama just browsing
Thought I'd respond with colts, stop the smoke
Move with the bolts and volts of energy toward the enemy
Now he's burning G's, penalty is for infinity
Attack the third eye, would occur by a vocal formed into a storm
With loud thunder that left him in the crowd wondering
Now you wonder on many thoughts you ponder
Fell asleep trying to seek the Beyonder
While I would ponder microphones, reciting poems
Striking domes to your frightening moans of horror!
Speaking evil Hebrew from the Torah
Slammed the mic, it turned to a serpent, opened the curtains
Saw things he couldn't interpret
Destroyed the Earth, fill it with gunpowder
Capable of Sun power, rebuild it in one hour
Then revealed it through a sunflower, shed the shower
Showing the power of the Lord Messiah, I've absorbed the fire
Water, oxygen, you can't comprehend
'Til your strange doctrines stop the winds
Beyond the orbits of Dionne Warwick
With no broomsticks and magic tricks to this
Return of the Iron Maiden
Stomp your corny ass like the Raven
What's the matter? You frostbitten, you lost your mittens
I've seen you under the cross smitten
Seeking remorse from the Christians

[Outro: Killah Priest]
It's Over! Killah Priest says, 'It's over!'
Huh, huh, It's Over!
Huh, huh, your careers is now finished
