

Kim-Lian, Garden Of Love

ohw my god
look at my world
crumbling apart
as I chase the wind

my life look at my life
what will i become
how will i begin

Once a 1000 words
that could be hurt
one million miles
crowded in my head
confusions filled my mind
everybody searching for an answer
to their prayer
we cling to what we know the truth is never there

Refrein:
and the lord says
look away, look away, look away, look away
to the garden of love
to the garden of love

my love
you where my love
thunder in my heart ooooohw may we never part each time i look in your eyes passion takes my heart
all i thought was right

Once a 1000 words
that could be hurt
crowned in my head

Refrein:
and the lord said
look away, look away, look away, look away
to the garden of love

heeeeeeeeeey

Refrein:

look away

so i looked away .....
