

Kimberley Locke, Have You Ever Been In Love

i never knew i could fly but something is taking me higher than ever like something inside is lifting me up until im touching heaven

no matter what the world may bring it all comes down to one thing chorus: have you ever been in love? have you ever noticed how the sky never seems so blue the whole worlds in time with you have you ever known that someone is gonna be the one no matter what you do, the sun still shines on you like an angel from above, have you ever been in love?

when he takes my hand, im carried away with the force of a river when there are mountains ahead they're easy to face if we climb them together whatever dreams the night may bring

chorus

no matter what you do... yeah...
