King Adora, Asleep

Asleep on an empty sheet
A secret I couldn't keep
Just me and a friend wondering, bonding
Love, you always were my love, you always were

So throw your arms around me 'til it hurts
Give me something I can touch
And if I'm lost you've found me, but it hurts
Give me something I can love

Asleep is away from harm
As weak as a broken heart
Just me in a web, drowning, drowning
Love, you always were my love, you always were

So throw your arms around me 'til it hurts
Give me something I can touch
And if I'm lost you've found me, but it hurts
Give me something I can love

Asleep is away from harm
As weak as a broken heart
Just me in a web, dying, dying
Love, it always hurts
