

King's X, Hurricane

At the moment when she knew we couldn't see
She came up from the ocean
Driven by the sea
Then she kept on hanging round like she would Never leave
In between the wind and rain she screamed

Allison, that's just like a hurricane

Thunder clouds and blackouts in the night outside of dreams
Where rivers ran where there was once a stream
If we can walk on water well it's too hard to perceive
And you know it's even harder to believe

Allison, that's just like a hurricane