

Kingmaker, Revelation

You've always insisted on retribution for misguided members of institutions You've always denied deliverance for fooled followers of ignorance

Shaky visions
Thoughts injected Inspirations resurrected
Rusted, Rack, Ruin reigns Red lights gonna pre-arrange

Revelation for little miss tunnel vision You've never believed in fidelity while you walked the halls of Supremacy I once was in awe of your strength and power
I would've followed you to the final hour don't you know

You were a concept I once knew, but now you're gone, now we're through Certain state of mind you hail in all other shapes and sizes you fail.

At your funeral I was there you boyfriend was held in a strangers glare Me, him, her and you
None of us mourned and that's the truth.
