

Kirsty McGee, Safe Harbour Song

as i walked out one morning with the cold wind on my face i could have sworn i saw you but you're in another place and i recall you saying before you went away there's not much trouble leaving but it troubled you to stay i was always your safe harbour you would always roam for six long years, you anchored here like a port within a storm and i wish that i'd been stronger i wish i'd been more true when you became a part of me and i a part of you

it's cold now in the mornings a bitter wind winds round i see you when i close my eyes something lost and never found i've seen waves as tall as houses crashing over cars i've known a love that was so blind it blacked out all the stars i've seen lovers

i've seen angels driving strangers' cars but in all the world i never saw a love so sweet as ours
